PROJECTS

Multivariable Analysis of Patient's Diet | Excel, Python

January 2024 - February 2024

- Multivariable regression model and ANOVA analysis of nutrients.
- Use of FatSecret database and API services for diet metadata retrieval.
- Leveraged Excel and Python model-training functionalities to analyze a patient's diet, deriving strong health insights; identified the minimal impact of sodium on the overall nutrient profile and the exacerbating effects of fat surplus.

 $\textbf{Finance application database management} \hspace{0.2cm} \mid \textit{Python, SQLite, Flask, Javascript} \hspace{0.2cm} \textit{February 2024 - April 2024} \$

- Managed a local finance web application database with SQLite databases.
- Constructed a responsive web application to display simulations of common stock operations with Python Flask.

CSV-formatted cleaning and preparation invoice reports | Excel

May 2024

• Performed various operations to restore, clean and prepare data in CSV format for optimal retrieval and further analysis of invoice reports. Focused on overall costs and variable discount applications.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Programming Languages: C, C++, Python, SQL

Technologies / Frameworks: Git, Excel, Flask, SQLite, Bulma, Matlab

SOFT SKILLS

Problem Solving: Ability to construct solutions that meet the expected requirements, whether it is unknown or familiar challenges.

Rational intelligence: Use of well-understood mathematical numeric methods and heuristic approaches for optimization tasks, supporting robust decision-making.

Intellectual curiosity: Continuous desire of new challengues and diversification of abilities. Cognitive flexibility: Ability to switch from tasks in ever-changing demanding situations.
